

GERMANY WILL PROPOSE "A PEACE OF RIGHT"

ALLIES DISCUSS ACTION IF FOES REFUSE TO SIGN

Do Not Expect Germans to Refuse, However—Fiume Case Up.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, May 10.—It is understood that among the subjects discussed by the council of four at its meeting today was the possibility of Germany refusing to sign the peace and what steps should be taken in that event.

It is said that no intimation that Germany intended taking such a course has reached the allies but they are taking nothing for granted and the discussion of the subject by the representatives of the powers today was by way of preparation for such an eventuality, however remote.

Austrians Leave Monday
The Austrian peace delegates will leave Vienna on Monday and reach Paris probably Wednesday, the French foreign office was advised today.

Previous advices had indicated that the Austrian delegation was expected to reach Paris Monday.

STUDY FIUME CASE
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, May 9.—(Friday) (Havas)—It is understood that the council of four is continuing its study of the Fiume question on the basis of the agreement reached relative to the future status of the Saar region.

The Saar region, according to the terms of the treaty of peace presented to the Germans will be governed by a commission consisting of five members appointed by the league of nations. After fifteen years a plebiscite will be held to ascertain the desires of the population as to continuance of the existing regime under the league of nations, union of the section within France or return to German sovereignty.

GERMANS PREPARE NOTE.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, May 10.—(Havas)—The German cabinet council has decided upon the wording of a note that Germany will present without delay to the allies, according to a Zurich dispatch. The note, it is added, may be made public today.

President Wilson expressed the belief today that nothing would be heard from the German plenipotentiaries for about a week. Neither he nor the other members of the American delegation have heard anything regarding the published report that the German delegates were preparing to depart from Versailles.

The German delegation worked nearly the whole night in preparing counter propositions, the clicking of typewriters in their offices not ceasing until four o'clock this morning. No communications have as yet been sent to the chiefs of the allied missions.

NO UNION POSSIBLE.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Friday, May 9.—(Delayed)—The portion of the German treaty which has not as yet been made public contains a provision that German Austria's separation from Germany shall be "inalienable" unless approved by the council of the league of nations. The use of the word "inalienable" is for the purpose of settling the question, not only for the present but for a long period.

SEEKS WILSON AUDIENCE.

VICTORY LOAN "OVER THE TOP" INDICATIONS ARE THIS AFTERNOON

No Figures On Surplus Are Available—All Districts Busy.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 10.—Although there were no official predictions or estimates, there were many indications today that the Victory Liberty Loan has successfully passed "over the top" if it has not actually been over-subscribed.

Official subscriptions to the Victory Liberty loan shortly before noon today approximated $3,500,000,000. A statement by the treasury said:

"Reports of unreported subscriptions indicated that the country's total was greatly above the official showing."

WILSON ADHERES TO HIS ORIGINAL FIUME DECISION

President May Discuss Before Congress Whole Treaty.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., May 10.—Reports from Paris that President Wilson had committed himself to a proposal to settle the Fiume dispute by giving that port to Italy after 1923, were said in dispatches to the white house today to be "absolute fiction."

It appeared from today's advices that the president had not deviated in the slightest from his original stand in opposition to Italy's claim to this Adriatic port.

Other dispatches from Paris said the president would personally address congress and discuss the "whole subject matter" of the Paris negotiations immediately after his return to the United States. It is understood that the president is being urged by his advisers to make a speaking tour over the country after he addresses congress.

TO SUBMIT LETTER.
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Friday, May 9.—It is stated in authoritative quarters that President Wilson's submission of the engagement for the defense of France by America will be submitted to the United States senate merely by the transmission of his letter to Premier Clemenceau agreeing to submit the subject to the senate and will not embrace a treaty carrying out the engagement. No treaty has as yet been drafted and such action will await the decision of the senate for or against the proposal.

FOUR MORE TOWNS OVER TOP TODAY

With the Victory Loan drive drawing to a close this evening four more Le County townships reported their quotas raised today—the last day. The last four into the fold, together with their quotas:

Nashua—$29,700.
Nelson—$22,600.
South Dixon—$31,300.
Lee County—$33,400.

Lee county, as a whole, was reported over the top during the first week of the drive, but that because several of the townships which had gone over had oversubscribed sufficiently to overcome the shortages of townships which had not met their marks. There are still several townships which have not passed their requirements.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, May 10.—Demobilization of the war army has passed the two million mark, General March, chief of staff, announced today and the number of troops returned from France now exceeds one million.

Official estimates of the general staff show that a continuation of the present rate of transporting troops from France will result in the reduction by August 1 of the American force in France and Germany to 225,824 officers and men, including combat and service of supply troops, marine detachments and the navy personnel attached to the army.

Nearly 310,000 a Month
The movement from France during the month of April totalled 303,173. General March said that the acceleration of the official schedule proceeding to the point where it seems certain that the official estimate of 310,000 per month will be reached and exceeded.

As an example of the degree to which the return of troops has been expedited General March said that the 90th (Texas and Oklahoma) division, which was scheduled to sail about the second week in June, would embark this month.

WRIST BROKEN BY BITE OF A HORSE

Myron Royster, residing at Temperance Hill near Amboy, was the victim of a very painful accident late yesterday afternoon at his home while driving a stork outfit machine through a corn field, when one of the horses became entangled in the mechanism and could not be extricated by the driver. Mr. Royster went to the barn for the purpose of securing tools to take the machine apart and liberate the horse and when he returned and passed close to the animal, the horse, crazed with pain, suddenly snapped at him, catching his left arm in its mouth and breaking both bones in the left arm between the wrist and the elbow. A Dixon surgeon was summoned and had the young man removed to the Dixon hospital where his wounds were treated. It was necessary to summon a veterinary surgeon to extricate the horse and then care for its wounds.

JUNIORS GAVE FINE PLAY ON FRIDAY NIGHT

"What Happened to Jones" Was Shown Large Audience.

What Happened to Jones? Not anything very terrible except that the end of the play indicated that he might be a principal to a wedding—not a very terrible fate as ordinarily viewed. But that he had narrow escapes, everyone who viewed the play of that name given by the North Dixon High school Juniors at the opera house last evening, will admit. The play moved rapidly along and was very bright and clever and there were no misfits in the cast to spoil its effectiveness. The many tight places in which Jones found himself only to escape with ready ease kept the audience amused from start to finish. Carl Santee, who took the part, reproduced the character so skillfully that one might think the play was written especially for him.

Another especially cleverly portrayed part was that of Helma, the Swedish maid of all work, taken by Alta Ross. Not a question could arise but that she had "young come over" a short time.

33RD DIVISION TO BE HOME BY MAY 20

Congressman McKinley is Proud of the Prairie Fighters.

The 33rd (Prairie) Division, which includes Company G and the old Sixth Illinois National Guard Infantry, should be home by May 20, according to Congressman William B. McKinley of this state, who yesterday reached Chicago from a tour of France, on which he was accompanied by Congressmen Madden and Yates, and during which he visited the famous battlefields where the Illinois men fought.

Praise for Division.
Mr. McKinley had high praise for the division. "Few persons realize how well our boys fought," he said. "We must take off our hats to them. Take one place near Verdun, where the 33d fought. It was in a valley, a mile or more from hills to hills. A creek flowed through the center and there were big swamps.

"Our Illinois boys worked through these swamps in the face of machine gun fire from the hills opposite. Nothing but sheer bravery accomplished that.

Foreman's Lads Due May 20.
"Col. Milton Foreman and his troops should be in Chicago about May 20. We were present at a review of 20,000 Illinois national guard men at Coblenz, Secretary of War Baker was there.

"We took up with him the question of having these boys parade in Chicago. He went down the line and asked every twentieth or thirtieth man. Most of them wanted to go right home, as the secretary said it would mean a two weeks longer stay for them if they were kept together to parade. But Mr. Baker said he could arrange to have one or two regiments parade here on their way to Camp Grant.

"The army supplies were handled in a remarkable manner. There were no kicks about this. The postoffice was something I could not get to the bottom of. It seems that Gen. Pershing had an idea that no one should know where his divisions were, not even the postoffice. That may account for delays in mail.

EBERT APPEALS FOR UNISON IN OPPOSING PACT

Teuton Leader Issues Proclamation for Firm Stand.

Berlin, Friday, May 9.—(Via Copenhagen)—(Delayed)—Germany's reply to the terms of peace presented at Versailles on Wednesday will be a proposal "for a peace of right on the basis of a lasting peace of the nations," according to a proclamation to the German people issued here today by President Ebert.

The proclamation says the treaty would "deliver German labor to foreign capitalism for the indignity of wage slavery and permanently fetter the young German republic."

The proclamation closes with an appeal to the German people to stand together, knowing no parties "and to preserve with the government mutual trust in the path of duty in the belief of the triumph of reason and right."

Text of Proclamation
The text of the proclamation follows:

"The first reply of the allies to the sincere desire for peace on the part of our starving people was the laying down of uncommonly hard armistice conditions. The German people, having laid down its arms, honestly observed all the obligations of the armistice hard as they were. Notwithstanding this our opponents for six months have continued the war by maintaining the blockade. The German people bore all these burdens, trusting in the promise given by the allies in their note of November 8, that the peace would be a peace of right on the basis of President Wilson's 'fourteen points.'

Terms are Unbearable
"Instead of that the allies have now given us peace terms which are in contradiction to the promise given. It is unbearable for the German people and is impracticable, even if we put forth all our power. Violence without measure would be done to the German people. From such an imposed peace a fresh hatred would be bound to arise between the nations and in the course of history there would be new wars. The world would be obliged to bury every hope of a league of nations liberating and healing the nations, and insuring peace.

Peace of Violence
"The dismemberment and mangling of the German people, the delivering of German labor to foreign capitalism for the indignity of wage slavery and the permanent fettering of the young German republic by the entente's imperialism is the aim of this peace of violence. The German people's government will answer the peace proposals of violence with a proposal of a peace of right on the basis of a lasting peace of the nations.

Will of People United
"The fact that all circles of the German people are united in this (Continued on Page 5.)

Financial Clauses of Pact Condemned By French Papers

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Friday, May 9.—(Delayed)—The financial clauses of the treaty between the allied and associated nations and Germany continue to be the most discussed sections of the document and are almost universally condemned by the commentators for not making Germany responsible for the repayment of the entire cost of the war and for leaving France with a burden placed at 170,000,000,000 francs.

"What will the stupefaction of France be when it is realized that her victory condemns her to bankruptcy?" asks L'Express.

The democratic socialist official organ, Humanite, condemns the treaty unreservedly, saying it is a "bourgeois capitalist peace which no socialist deputy can ratify and which will consider it a criminal breach of a sworn word and an outrage on morals and right."

OFFICIAL RULE TELLS OF TAXES ON BEVERAGES

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Explains Law.

Owing to the confusion apparently locally regarding the scope of the new revenue laws in its application to beverages and the misconceptions to be used in its collection, the letter herewith, which Deputy Revenue Collector Frank M. Bertrand received last evening may aid in clearing the situation. He also has been advised that ice cream cones are taxable.

From Chicago Office Internal Revenue, TREASURY DEPARTMENT, Office of Internal Revenue, Chicago.

The following is an excerpt from my statement to the press, making certain tentative rulings under section 630, revenue law. Please give this all possible publicity. The full statement given to the press is being mailed you tonight.

Rate of Tax.

The tax is measured by the price for which the food or drink is sold. It is on the actual sales price at the rate of 1 cent for each 10 cents or fraction thereof of the amount paid for any of the articles mentioned in section 630. Each sale for 10 cents or less is taxed 1 cent and each sale for over 10 cents is taxed 1 cent for each 10 cents or fraction thereof of the price. The tax is upon the whole amount of the price paid by the purchaser when the price is paid at one time though in payment for several articles which are the subject of a single transaction of purchase and sale and the total price paid is the unit for computing the tax. Thus, if the purchaser orders two sodas at the same time each sold for 15 cents, the tax is 3 cents, not 4 cents. If, however, he buys one soda for 15 cents the tax is 2 cents, and if he then immediately purchases another 15 cent drink the tax is 2 cents on the second sale, which cannot be treated as part of the first sale. Any means by which separate purchasers pool their order for the purpose of defeating or escaping the tax imposed by section 630 shall be carefully guarded against by the vendor, for its employment subjects the purchaser and the vendor if he connives in it to the penalties provided in section 1308 of the act.

Articles Taxable.

The following article of food or drink are subject to tax within the meaning of section 630 of the revenue act of 1918: All beverages when compounded or mixed at the fountain, such as orangeade, lemonade, pineapple juice, cocoa cola, root beer, moxie, phosphates, fruit and flavoring syrups compounded or mixed with carbonated water or plain water, milk shakes in any form, malted milk shakes in any form, cream and egg shakes, ice cream, ice cream sodas, ice cream sandwiches, ice cream sandwiches, flavored ices, and all other similar foods or drinks. This list, however, is not intended or considered to be complete, but merely illustrative of the class of articles subject to tax.

Beverages Not Taxable.

There are certain drinks which are often sold at soda fountains, ice cream parlors or similar places of business which are not regarded as soft drinks or ice cream products or similar articles of food or drink within the meaning of section 630 of the revenue act of 1918. Such beverages are exemplified by hot beef tea, coffee, hot, cold or iced tea, hot or cold or iced buttermilk, milk, hot chocolate or cocoa, hot clam broth, hot clam bisque, hot tomato bisque, and hot tomato bouillon. No tax applies on the sale of beverages or drinks such as ginger ale, root beer, moxie, mineral water, etc., when served directly from a container in which case the manufacturer's tax on which such drinks has already been levied, see section 628 of the revenue act of 1918. However, if any of the drinks or beverages herein mentioned are compounded or mixed with carbonated water or extract or other ingredient at the fountain, they are taxable beverages. Not taxable medicinal—there are certain medicines such as bromo seltzer, citrate of magnesia, Rochelle salts, seditz powder, bicarbonate of soda, castor oil, epsom salts, and essence of pepsin which are often sold at soda fountains, ice cream parlors and similar places of business which are not soft drinks or ice cream products or similar articles of food or drink and hence are not taxable.

NEWS FROM DIXON

"Keeping Fit" campaign.

County Secretary W. B. Holliday, of Amboy, has been appointed District Representative of the State Department of Public Health to conduct the "Keeping Fit" campaign among the boys of Lee and Ogle counties. The State Department of Health in co-operation with the U. S. Public Health service has prepared a set of charts and slides pertaining to the matter of physical fitness, which presents to the boys of 14 years and upwards, the best methods of keeping in physical trim. These lectures have been prepared as a direct reaction from the recent physical examinations given in our army camps in which more than 25,000 men were found unfit for army service. Every boy and young man of Lee and Ogle counties should avail himself of the opportunity of seeing these charts, or one of the pamphlets, "Keeping Fit," which will be sent to anyone asking for the same.

Athletic Test for Boys.

Plans are being developed for giving the boys of the village schools of Lee county an athletic test which will demonstrate their ability to run and jump, throw a baseball and put the 8 pound shot. These contests will be held at each individual school, the boys being classified as to weight, into five classes, from 60 pounds upward. Each group will be given tests as to running, jumping and throwing ability and graded accordingly. Every boy in the schools will be expected to participate unless physically unfit or having some other legitimate excuse. All participants will have a physical examination and none will be asked to take part except on certificate of a physician that he is physically able to undertake the events. All boys making a standard of 50 points or more in each event in his class will be awarded a medal; a record will be kept of each contestant's achievements and next year he will be given an opportunity of competing against his own record. These tests will be held under direction of Lee County Y. M. C. A.

automobile and visited every place where Illinois boys went into battle.

"The 33d division had 8,000 casualties and 800 deaths. It was a big task to move vast bodies of men in the restricted Argonne territory, where there were no roads except those the army built and where supplies had to be brought up under fire for 100,000 men.

"These boys are coming home and now have hardly had time to draw a breath or look around. But they are of the age and temperament to run things in this country now, and I think they will."

Officers Are Reiled.

However, dispatches from Brest, France, are to the effect that high ranking officers of the 33rd want it to parade in its entirety in Chicago and that they are somewhat indignant at the manner in which Secretary of War Baker put the proposition to the men at the review in Luxembourg a few days ago.

They believe Mr. Baker did not wish to grant permission for a demonstration at home and had presented the question to the soldiers in such a way that they would support his viewpoint.

What Baker Said.

The men stood at open ranks when the secretary reviewed them. This, according to many who heard him, is what he said:

"I want to get your opinion on two things. Whether it is your wish to remain in service two or three weeks after you get back to the states so you can parade, or whether you want to be discharged in two or three days. Men who want to go to Camp Grant to be discharged two or three days after the arrival in camp raise their hands."

"Almost all the hands went up. The men who are willing to remain in camp two or three weeks so they can parade raise their hands."

There were only a few in the air. Seven colonels have said they do want the division reviewed at home. Further, they asserted the men want it.

Col. Davis for Parade.

Col. Davis of the 132d Infantry was free in his criticism.

"Of course, the men want to parade," the colonel said. "If they don't, they will miss one of the most important events of their lives. If Mr. Baker had simply and fairly asked all the men who wanted to parade in Chicago to hold up their hands, there would have been few who would not have raised them."

"Our review was one of the finest things the division ever had, and you won't find a man who will say he would have missed it. But if the secretary of war had lined them up the day before and said: 'All men who want to get up early in the morning, get a sandwich for dinner, and stand in line all day for a review, raise their hands,' he would have seen few hands. And if he had said: 'All men who want to remain in quarters tomorrow and do nothing except ordinary routine, raise their hands,' he would have seen them all. But no man is sorry he was at the review."

"It is the same way with the parade. Put it up to the men squarely, and they want it. After it is over, every man will be thankful he participated."

AMERICAN LEGION TO CLOSE FIRST SESSIONS TODAY

Minneapolis is Named as Place for Next Convention.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

St. Louis, May 10.—The American Legion today opened the final sessions of its three-day caucus with practically all of its proposed constructive measures still to be acted on by the delegates.

Before the caucus today were half a dozen or more resolutions all designed to aid the men who served in the military or naval service of the government during the war, two of them designed to appeal especially to enlisted men.

Employment Urged.

An employment resolution called on congress to give federal aid in any movement, whether of municipal, state or national character, which will increase opportunities for employment. Reclamation of all arid and uncultivated lands and building booms were mentioned as possible solutions to the employment problem. In addition it urges every town, city, state and business concern to give preference to ex-soldiers who are seeking work.

The convention yesterday was thrown almost into a riot by a speech of Colonel J. F. J. Herbert of Massachusetts, who, when Chicago was proposed as the scene of the next convention, declared the soldiers and sailors could not go to Chicago until "it secured an American for mayor."

Bar Seattle Club.

The Soldiers and Sailors club of Seattle, Washington, was barred on the ground that some of its members were members of the I. W. W. and "bolshhevik in character."

Minneapolis finally was chosen for the next convention.

Private P. C. Calhoun, of Bridgeport, Conn., a marine, was elected third vice chairman of the Legion.

PEACE SUMMARY

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Germany, protesting that the terms of peace made known at Versailles on Wednesday are "unbearable" and "impracticable," will make a counter proposal for "a peace of right on the basis of a lasting peace of the nations."

Thus, says a proclamation to the German people, issued on Friday at Berlin by President Ebert.

The German national assembly has been called to meet in Berlin on Monday of next week and it is probable that at that time formal consideration of the peace terms will begin.

Advices from Paris indicate that a definite settlement of the question raised by Italy and Jugo Slavia over the disposition of Fiume has not been reached. It is said that the plan adopted for the government of the Sarre region, which for fifteen years prior to a plebiscite will be administered by a commission under the auspices of the league of nations is being considered by the council of four in the case of Fiume.

Chancellor Renner of German Austria will be one of the delegates from that nation to go to France to receive the treaty between the allies and his country. In an address Thursday he indicated in accepting his nomination as a delegate that he had given up hope for a union of Germany and German Austria.

It is understood in Paris that the Chinese delegates to the conference will refuse to sign the treaty of peace if they do not receive from the council of three a written engagement that Japan will restore the Shantung peninsula and Kiao Chau to China.

Dispatches from Paris state that President Wilson will, in submitting to the United States senate the proposed understanding with France by which this country will send troops to France if that country is attacked by Germany, will merely transmit the letter he wrote to Premier Clemenceau on the subject. Whether a treaty is ultimately framed will depend upon the senate.

SHAVER TO START AUTO TIRE STORE

George Shaver of this city has leased the building now occupied by the Mathias grocery store on Peoria avenue. He will open up the store room about June 1 with a new and complete line of automobile tires and accessories. He will also conduct a tire repair and retreading department.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

By JANE PHELPS.

BAB APPROPRIATES A LETTER SHE SEES UPON NEIL'S DESK.

I felt positive the letter inside that envelope was from Blanche Orton. I had received invitations and acceptances from her, and could not be mistaken in the writing. I blushed with shame but I finally had the letter in my bag. Aunt had risen to look at the view as I spoke of it, and it had given me a chance to slip it in. I would find out what she had to say to my husband.

"Shall we go now?" I asked. "We do not want to miss the first of the play," I was anxious to get away before Neil came in. He might miss the letter, and ask me if I had seen it. I was ashamed of myself, yet I fairly ached to see what was in that letter. How could I wait until the play was over? I decided I would not. I would excuse myself and go to the ladies' dressing room after the first act and then read it.

As we passed the stenographer going out she asked me meaningly: "Shall I tell Mr. Forbes you called?" "Certainly," I replied in my coldest tones. "Tell him Mrs. Forbes and his Aunt were here."

She made no reply, but I saw a significant glance she threw to the bookkeeper. It angered me, and yet I was still more incensed at myself because of the flush which I knew she had observed.

"I don't like that girl's looks nor her manner. She seemed very pert to me," Aunt remarked as we gained the street. "She is. I wish Neil would discharge her. But I don't like to speak of it. There is so much said of wives being jealous of good looking office girls, you know. He might think me jealous."

"Nonsense! you say you have only been there once before. I shall tell him that she isn't at all calculated to help his business if she acts with others as she did with us today." I made no reply, hoping Aunt would be able to get Neil to discharge the girl, yet knowing all the time that it was due to my own actions the day I had visited the office in Neil's absence, that she had been partly annoying.

Aunt chatted until we reached the theater. I scarcely heard a word she said so anxious was I to read the letter that I had taken from Neil's desk. We had good seats, and aunt seemed to enjoy the play from the very beginning. I paid scant attention to the stage, so fixed upon the letter was my mind. To my disappointment there were but two acts. I should have to wait some time for the intermission. I spent the time speculating upon the contents of the letter and whether Neil would return to his office and miss it. He had said something about his club at luncheon.

HEALTH.

Dixon is to have a Health Promotion Week next week and in connection with this highly valuable and important propaganda for the improvement of the health conditions of Illinois, which is being sponsored by the state authorities, there is nothing more important than the cleaning of streets. Dixon has many miles of fine paving. A great deal of money has been spent by the taxpayers for pavement and macadam.
They will not be short-sighted enough to object to paying a little more to get the full benefit of the first investment—clean streets. The new city commission may feel that it has the endorsement of the public in any real effort it makes toward the improvement of the street conditions in the city.

The editor has received a communication on this particular subject which is believed worthy of space, particularly at this time when health promotion is the topic of the hour. It reads:

Enclosed you will find an article clipped from the Literary Digest, which has come to my attention. It is so in line with my ideas and is upon such an important subject that I wished you also to see it. I believe it is particularly applicable to Dixon at this time. I have heard so many visitors in Dixon during the past few years, suggest (some mildly and some otherwise) that the streets, and especially the paved streets, should be washed and kept in a more cleanly and sanitary manner.
This is especially true of the bridge across Rock River. As you know, every vehicle that crosses it raises a cloud of choking dust which of course carries with it the germs of many different kinds of disease, especially those affecting the nose, throat and lungs. To keep the bridge clean and protect our people to that extent at least from these diseases would surely not be a very great undertaking for a city like Dixon.
There is much more that could be said upon this subject. To my way of thinking, perhaps the most important function of a city is to provide good walks and streets and then to keep them clean and sanitary. The thing, which a visitor in any city notices, is the kind of streets and whether the same are clean. After that he perhaps pays some attention to the character of the buildings, etc., but poor streets, or even good ones in an unsanitary and un-cleanly condition, will condemn any city in the mind of the visitor no matter what its other public improvements

may be.

While the streets of Dixon are by no means the most untidy of other similar cities in this part of the state, they are on the other hand by no means the most tidy. It would seem that a decided improvement in this regard could easily be made which would result in our visitors forming a better impression of the city as a whole to say nothing about the health of our citizens which would surely be promoted thereby.

Very truly yours,

E. H. BREWSTER.

The clipping from the Literary Digest, which Mr. Brewster speaks about is captioned "Wash the Streets," and says:

To dry-clean a dirty street with scrapers and brooms is no more satisfactory than to rub the body with a dry cloth as a substitute for a bath. Washing is the true method of ridding a surface of undesirable matter, whether that surface is the skin of one's face or the pavement of a thoroughfare.

By "cleaner streets" we do not mean streets free only of visible dirt, but streets free of the invisible microbes
that ride upon the finest grains of dust.
Water, the great cleaner, should be applied daily in large quantities to all business streets, and at frequent intervals to all paved residence streets. The germ-laden dust should be flushed into the sewers before it can spread pneumonia, tuberculosis, grippé or influenza,
and other diseases of the nose, throat
and lungs.

Dr. T. D. Lewiston, of San Francisco, wrote recently to The Chronicle of his city the following letter, which is reproduced by the writer of the article cited above. Dr. Lewiston, calling attention to what he terms "the unwashed
and filthy streets" of San Francisco, says what is no doubt equally true of many other cities when he remarks:

"As a medical man who has studied epidemics and their spread, I am certain that there would be perhaps twenty-five per cent fewer cases of influenza here
if the streets were kept clean and free from dust and dirt, and if the law against spitting were even half-way enforced, which it is not. The people of this city have themselves to thank or blame for their present sufferings—or, rather, the officials whom they put in power. I have no interest in local politics, but for the sake of the life and health of the community, can not something worth while be done to clean up the streets? They are in a dangerous condition of filth, a condition that would seriously menace the health of the community, even if there were no
epidemic."

The writer's final comment is:

"Dr. Lewiston states the case for clean streets mildly enough. It would be nearer the mark to say that three-fourths of all the respiratory disease germs reach the nose, throat, and lungs from the street surfaces, where they were deposited by diseased people."

ALL ELKS' LODGES
HELPING IN WORK

The United States government, under a cooperative arrangement with the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, as authorized by act of congress, has embarked on a program of vocational education which is intended to vocationally train or re-educate every one of its disabled soldiers, sailors and marines without expense to these war heroes.

It has been found that no matter what physical disability a man may have suffered, he can be so trained or re-educated as to overcome the handicap and enjoy the same or greater earning capacity he had before being wounded.
There are more than 599 vocations open to these disabled men, and nearly 593 educational institutions of all kinds—technical, commercial, agricultural and trade institutions throughout the country have opened their doors to the working. All expenses for books, tuition and living, with allowance to dependents, are provided.

When the work of putting this vocational education law into effect was begun, it was found that it would be necessary to interest some private agency to make it a complete success. This was because the cases of hundreds of wounded men were still pending before the War Risk Insurance Board and the men themselves were without money to meet living expenses while in vocational training. There were also hundreds disabled or diseased before the law went into effect or for various technical reasons were outside its provisions. In addition to these were the cases of United States citizens who fought in the armies of the Allies and were wounded, while the law provides only for those wounded while fighting with the American forces.

Gov. Tener At Head.

Thus there are many thousands of disabled American soldiers, sailors and marines to be vocationally trained who must be provided for either temporarily or throughout this period of training by some private agency. The law itself makes provision for a cooperative arrangement of this kind. The Federal Board for Vocational Education, in charge of this work, has selected the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, working through the Elks War

Relief Commission, for this cooperative assistance. Former Governor John K.
Tener, of Pennsylvania, is at the head of the Elks War Relief Commission.

Every Elks lodge throughout the country has been instructed to appoint a special committee to be known as the Soldiers' Friend Committee, to assist in this work. Its members are instructed to cooperate with the nearest District Office of the Federal Board for Vocational Education, of which there are fourteen throughout the country, and with the Home Service Section of the American Red Cross. Every wounded hero of the war is to be personally seen and urged to at once take advantage of this offer of free vocational education.
Its importance, not only to the disabled men themselves and members of their immediate families, and no less to the nation itself, is at once apparent.

before, but long enough to gain one so-called Americanism, the art of never letting slip an opportunity to gain from her employers, by some hook or crook, more money. Helma furnished the pure comedy character and her make-up was so ridiculous that it caused a ripple of laughter every time she appeared.

Lorraine Missman gave an especially clever characterization of the maiden aunt in the play, gentle and sweet and one who evidently practiced her
"prunes and prisms" in devout fashion.

Cissy, the ward, the young woman with a longing for the "fashions" of not of Egypt, but of California, where she enjoyed a delightful respite from the monotonous atmosphere of her guardian's painfully good and studious household, where cards and dancing were absolutely taboo and study of the abstruse in philosophy was the chief disipation. The part was admirably taken by Irene Miller.

Professor Goodly was the head of this household and his one deviation from the "straight and narrow" precipitated all the trouble around which the play is built. This part was ably taken by John Hoon. Lucile Frye took the part of his very "proper" wife, who evidently was the guiding hand in the home and at the opening of the play was very busily engaged in making the house "fit" for the arrival of the Professor's brother, the Bishop of Ballarat, characterized with proper churchly dignity and lack of worldliness by James Andrews. Marjorie Goodly, the sweet young daughter of the house, was Dorothy Gullion, engaged to Richard Heathley (Victor Eichler) a "model"
young man. The elder daughter, Minerva, buried in erudite tones, was carefully portrayed by Dorothy Chapman.

George Beier made an excellent police man, although not quite as obese as the typical one. As a guardian of the law he was quite correct. John Ives, with vacant stare, cleverly portrayed the escaped sanatorium patient who carried the hallucination that he was an Indian and acted and dressed accordingly Robert Dixon took the part of the superintendent of the sanatorium
in forceful manner.

Good directing was evidenced in the excellent characterizations made by all the members of the cast. Miss Dorothy Andrews and Miss Edna Thompson were the directors and deserve a great deal of credit.

An orchestra, the personnel of which was Miss Myrtle Rice, Clinton Ives, Harold Rowland, Wilson Dysart, and Willard Countryman, furnished the music between acts.

The business staff, which successfully conducted the business end of the entertainment, was composed of John Hoon, James Andrews, John Ives and Gladys Pope.

NOTHING TO BURN IN CITY BONFIRE

Health Inspection of This City Shows Good Conditions.

(By Publicity Committee.)
Health Promotion Week, which will be celebrated in Dixon and throughout the state of Illinois all next week, is a result of the lessons learned by the government authorities in preparing an army of the highest mental, moral and physical standard the world has ever known, and of the warnings of dangers which must be avoided in the reconstruction period. To keep clean means to keep well. Keeping our bodies, our homes, our yards, factories, business houses, apartment buildings, bridge, streets and alleys clean is essential and should be done with a helpful spirit to make Dixon more beautiful to welcome the men who sacrificed their all for our country and answered its call. Nothing can more fully demonstrate the appreciation which the people feel for them.

A most perfect organization of workers has carried out a thorough inspection of the conditions in Dixon. On the south side of the river the work has been in charge of Commissioner W. H. Slothower, Amos Bosworth, Richard Bovey, W. A. Schuler and Charles Leake. On the north side of the river the work has been in charge of Mrs. M. H. Vail, Mrs. Lee Reed and Mrs. Charles Miller, assisted by Mrs. E. E. Wingert, Mrs. W. F. Ross, Mrs. James Kitchen, Mrs. Herbert Morris, Mrs. E. N. Howell, Miss Carrie Pratt, Miss Ada Decker, Mrs. Nate Morrell, Mrs. C. H. Stackpole, Mrs. E. C. Kennedy, Mrs. Eugene Reuland, Mrs. Ramsey, Mrs. E. Mall, Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. Ware.

No Big Bonfire.
The conditions in Dixon have been found so excellent that there will be practically nothing combustible for a community bonfire—which is much more complimentary than that this part of the week's program might be carried out.

Wednesday will be "Better Babies Day," and Friday the school children will receive talks concerning health, the organization of the health spirit in the schools being under the direction of Mrs. Henry Noble. The children of all the schools will compete for prizes in essay-writing on any topic concerning health; the prizes being $5 for the best and $3 for the second best essays submitted.

The Pageant Committee held a splendid meeting last evening, at which time the decision was reached that all efforts for a grand and successful pageant be centered for the tremendous welcome which Dixon will give her returning soldiers in about three weeks.

FORMER DIXON MAN COMMANDS CAMP CUSTER

Maj. Gen. W. G. Haan is Assigned to That Cantonment.

The Detroit Free Press carries the following item concerning Major-General William G. Haan, who is well known here:

New York, May 5.—Wearing three decorations earned by meritorious service as commander of the fighting Thirty-second division, Major-General William G. Haan came home with 6113 of his soldiers aboard the steamer George Washington tonight to learn that the war department this afternoon had ordered him to proceed to Battle Creek, Mich., shortly, to take command of the new Thirty-second division that is to be established at Camp Custer.

When General Haan received the news of his new assignment, he was overjoyed.

"My home-coming could not have been made happier than this news makes me," he said. "I would rather go to Camp Custer than to any other place in the country because my boys belong in that section and I do not need to add that it would grieve me beyond expression if I had to be separated from them and from the Thirty-second."

The exact date of organization of the new Thirty-second is not known in army circles but it is certain many of the units within the division will not retain designations now held by some of the infantry and artillery troops.

General Haan brought with him his staff, including several Michigan officers, headquarters troops, in which there are a number of the Wolverine soldiers, the 125th field hospital, made up of 81 Michigan veteran hospital workers; the 128th infantry, including about 400 Michigan men; the 127th Wisconsin infantry, and the 127th Wisconsin field hospital.

Within an hour after the general and division staff arrived, headquarters was established at Hotel Astor in New York. General Haan joined Mrs. Haan, who went down the bay to welcome him and accompanied her to Hotel Devon where he will make his home for a few days until he goes to Custer.

Had Unique Honor

One of the unique honors of the war was conferred on General Haan during his trip across from Brest on the George Washington. It took the form of a joint dinner held on six transports at sea with Thirty-second division troops and at Coblenz, Germany; Brest, France, and in New York at 7 p. m. Saturday.

At the dinner on the George Washington, Secretary of War Baker spoke in eulogistic terms of General Haan, who replied by giving all the credit for the glory of his division to the officers and soldiers under him.

General Haan's three decorations are the croix de guerre with palm, the French commander legion of honor medal, and the distinguished service medal of his own grateful nation.

The citation that accompanied the distinguished service medal reads:

"This officer in command of the Thirty-third division took a prominent part in the Argonne-Meuse offensive and in the brilliant offensive against the Cote Dame Marie covering several days, which deprived the enemy of the key point of the position. His clear conception of the tactical situation involved showed him to be a military leader of superior order."

President Poincare of the French republic wrote this of General Haan in presenting the "commander of the legion of honor."

"He brilliantly commanded the Thirty-second division during the operations that resulted in the tactical capture of the Chamin des Dames, near Laon. Thanks to his tactical sense, to his conception of maneuver, to his indomitable tenacity, to the magnificent courage of his troops, who put their absolute trust in their chief, he gained several miles of ground. He took the immediate positions about Juvigny, which the enemy defended with desperation."

AUSTRIA DECIDES AGAINST JOINING GERMAN REPUBLIC

Death Knell Sounded By Chancellor in Parliament.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Vienna, Thursday, May 8.—(Delayed)

The death knell of old Austria was sounded in parliament this afternoon when Chancellor Renner, in accepting the nomination as a peace delegate to go to St. Germain said he relinquished all hopes for a fusion with Germany. His speech was made while the impression caused by the allies terms to Germany was still strong.

"The Austrian people must suffer for the misdeeds of rulers," the chancellor said. "We never wanted the war and we were not guilty of bringing it about. I will do my best to secure better terms for ourselves."

A few socialists demanded that no delegates be sent but there was no attempt at revolt or bolshevism.

FEW SHIPS TO AUSTRIA

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Paris, Friday May 9.—(Delayed)—The naval terms of the treaty between the allies and Austria, as now are completed are far more stringent than the naval terms in the treaty with Germany as the Austrian navy is completely extinguished. All the large ships are to be surrendered to the allied and associated powers and no nucleus of the fleet will remain.

The only craft of any kind which the terms give to Austrians are those for use on the Danube but these will not be available outside that river.

EBERT APPEALS FOR UNION IN OPPOSING PACT

man people have been moved so deeply testifies that the German government is giving expression to the united will of the German nation. The German government will put forth every effort to secure for the German people the same national unity and independence and the same freedom of labor in economical and cultural respects which the allies want to give to all the people of Europe, save only our people.

Appeals for Unity

"Our nation must save itself by its own action. In view of this danger of destruction the German nation and the government which it chose must stand by each other, knowing no parties. Let Germany unite in a single will to preserve German nationality and liberties. Every thought and the entire will of the nation ought now to be turned to labor for the preservation and reconstruction of our fatherland. The government appeals to all Germans in this hard hour to preserve with its mutual trust in the path of duty and in the belief in the triumph of reason and of right."

The proclamation which was issued by the imperial president and the imperial government bears the signature of President Ebert.

Compare Goodrich 375's with other Ford Car Tires

If you have not used these husky, de luxe tires for the Ford car, go at once to a Goodrich Dealer and say to him, "Give me a Goodrich Three-Seventy-Five."

Compare it with an ordinary Ford-size tire, and you will find it bigger and burlier in every way.

As a matter of figures and measurements, it is an inch bigger on the circumference, and much thicker in the cross section—that is, a 31x3 1/2 inch tire.

That extra size means a finer looking, easier riding Ford car to begin, and a longer lived car and tires in the end.

Though "Three-Seventy-Fives" cost a little more at the outset, built to meet the special needs of the Ford car and bring out its known virtues, they soon reveal a greater dollar economy, which makes it the better buy in the long run.

"The Standardized Store"

"HEALTH WEEK"

May 12 to 18

THE report of the Provost Marshal General regarding the first draft under the Selective Service Act of 1917, disclosed the fact that only two men in three throughout the country, of the age when a man is usually at his physical prime, were sufficiently approximate the normal to be considered available for military service. In other words, every third young man had some rather marked physical disability. Considering that the minimum standards of physical capacity were not excessively exacting, this is a rather startling showing.

"Health Week" is here. You owe it to yourself, your family, your community, to subject yourself to a self-analysis, to find if you are enjoying the health that is rightfully yours. If not, there is nothing that will restore you to the fullest enjoyment of good health as Chiropractic Adjustments. Health is demanded and appreciated in times of readjustment and peace more than ever before. Your country asks for your cooperation to make "Health Week" a marked success. Chiropractic Adjustments can and will do for you to the fullest of your demands. Chiropractic has made good, and will continue to do so.

Make America the Healthiest Country in the World.

This Girl Sings Away Shellshock of Doughboy Patients Overseas

PAULA LIND AYERS (Photo by Arnold Gentile)

Administering doses of familiar American songs to shellshock patients in hospitals is the new job of Miss Paula Lind Ayers, formerly a concert singer in New York City, now a Y.M.C.A. entertainer in France.

Miss Ayers' career as a song physician began by accident. While touring a number of American camps to sing to the doughboys, she visited a base hospital one afternoon and sang to the patients in the various wards.

"No need to go in there," she was told, in front of one closed door. "The shellshock patients are in there. They are making so much noise that they probably wouldn't hear you."

"I should like to try, anyhow," she said.

Before the end of Miss Ayers' first stanza, all but three or four of the worst cases had been quieted, and were listening to the song. By the time she had sung half a dozen songs, a few of the men were joining in the chorus. It was the first time that some of them had spoken since they had been stricken with shock.

After that, she visited the hospital daily, upon the request of the commanding officer, and went to the other hospitals in the region. Without exception it was found that the patients responded more readily to her singing than to almost any other treatment. Certain songs, Miss Ayers has discovered, appear to have a more beneficial effect than others.

"I have to begin with the softer, quieter melodies," she says. "Anything spirited or ragtime seems to frighten the men at first, just as any loud, sudden noise does. I start in with things like 'Just a Baby's Prayer at Twilight,' 'Little Buttercup,' 'Little Gray Home in the West,' and lullabies of any kind. As the boys' condition improves we go on to other songs, and soon most of the patients are singing with me."

"I believe that in the colleges this sort of thing is called 'music therapy,' though I discovered it by accident. Some of the boys have had very little treatment except music, and are recovering fast."

Novel as this use of entertainment is, it is pronounced highly essential by army officers, and one of them, besides commending Miss Ayers for her work, has ordered this "song treatment" for all the shellshock cases in his command. This is one reason why the "Y" has called for 375 more entertainers to go overseas. The hospitals need them almost as much as the theaters do.

Salts is fine for kidneys, quit meat.

Flush the kidneys at once when back hurts or bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so the sluggish filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of swelling, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color does back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

What might have been a very disastrous fire started at the home of Mrs. Matilda Willman Thursday morning. She had started a fire in a small stove upstairs and went below. When she came up to look at the stove she found that a bunch of papers on the floor had caught fire and were burning fiercely. Retaining her presence of mind she threw the burning papers out of an open window onto the porch roof. Here they were noticed by the neighbors who ran in and helped put out the blaze.

FINDS COMMISSION AWAITING HIM HERE

When Sherwood Dixon who recently returned to the United States with the 32nd Infantry after long service with the American forces on the Italian front, left camp his comrades called him Sergeant Dixon, the young man having won the promotion to that rank by his excellent soldier abilities while in the service. When he arrived in Dixon last evening to join in a happy reunion with his parents, Attorney and Mrs. Henry S. Dixon, he found awaiting him here a long, very official-looking envelope from the War Department— which, upon opening, he found contained his commission as a Second Lieutenant. Today the young man is receiving the congratulations of his many friends. The young man, who is as far as known, the only Lee county boy to serve on the Italian front, has received his discharge from Camp Sherman, and will on Monday take up the practice of law in the office of his father and uncle, Dixon & Dixon.

He is proud of the decoration for valor, accorded him by the Italian government, and especially so since he is the only Lee county man who has been decorated, as far as is known here.

BETTER WEATHER CAUSES CORN TO SHOW WEAKNESS

By Associated Press Leased Wire Chicago, May 10.—Favorable weather and talk of low importing from Argentina had a bearish effect today on corn. Support was lacking until after the market had undergone a material decline. Then commission houses and shorts became buyers. Opening prices which ranged from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2c lower, with July 1.62 1/4 to 1.63 and Sept. 1.54 1/4 to 1.55, were followed by a slight reaction, which however failed to last. Oats were easier with corn. After opening unchanged to 3/4c lower, including July at 67 1/2 to 68c the market continued to sag. Provisions reflected changes in the value of hogs. Moderate setbacks were followed by fair upturns to above yesterday's closing level. Week end adjustment of trades led to rallies, but not of a lasting sort. The close was unsettled, 1/2c to 1 1/2c net lower, with July 1.62 1/4 to 1.62 1/2 and Sept. 1.53 1/4 to 1.54 1/2.

Weekly Grain Review.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Chicago, May 10.—Violent fluctuations due to powerful conflicting reasons have made this week a memorable one for Chicago board of trade. The most spectacular event was a lightning flash break of 12c a bushel in the value of corn as a result of definite notice that the United States government would import wheat from Canada. Compared with a week ago, corn prices this morning were extremely irregular, ranging from 7c decline to an advance of 2 1/4c. Oats were down 1 1/4c to 5c, and provisions unchanged to 1/10c lower. Before the big collapse of the corn market took place in connection with announcement of the plan to bring Canadian wheat into the United States, corn prices were being hoisted rapidly by planting delays and by scarcity of hog arrivals. With hogs jumping to the highest price ever known, the corn market bounded up with extraordinary force at times, even in the face of warning from the national wheat director that excesses might bring about possibly government closing of the grain exchanges. Finally, however, deferred deliveries of corn gave way to the bearish effect of arrangements for the importation of 4,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and in view of the government report that the 1919 domestic wheat crop would surpass the April forecast. Oats were weakened by favorable crop conditions. Provisions reflected the varying aspects of the trade in grain and hogs.

REPORT PROGRESS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

The meeting of the Dixon Memorial Association held at the city hall last evening was more largely attended than any the association has ever had, and the committees which have been working on the preparations for the celebration of Memorial Day reported fine progress. In fact nearly all of the detailed work has been arranged for and within a few days final arrangements and program for the day can be announced. Sufficient funds were secured by the soliciting committee yesterday to insure a fine celebration, and the workers have found a great willingness to help on the part of most of the citizens.

Ensign M. C. Hofer, of Freeport, spent the day with his brother, I. B. Hofer and wife.

The Shoemakers' Pleasure Club will give their week-end dancing party in Rosbrook's hall this evening.
